Confidence Rule 28:

YOUR GREATEST ASSET IS YOUR ABILITY TO EARN. PROTECT IT.

As a professional, your earning ability is your greatest asset. Unfortunately, it can be unpredictable, as unexpected events like an accident, illness or permanent disability can seriously impact your earnings.

At Sanlam, we're in the business of planning for tomorrow, so that you can live with confidence today. That's why Sanlam's enhanced Income Protector is an innovative solution that will provide you with a smooth financial transition should your income be interrupted.

Here's what our additional features and options can cover you for:

Our enhanced cover not only protects you against the inability to work as a result of illness or injury; it also protects you against the costs of living with certain physical disabilities and illnesses that affect your lifestyle - even if you can still work.

Continued protection when you temporarily stop working for any reason other than retirement.

An option to be covered for life – should you suffer certain injuries or illnesses later in life or require frail care.

An option for additional protection If you are hospitalised, to help pay for non-medical expenses following a stay in hospital*.

Spouse & Child Protector options to help cover unexpected expenses should your spouse or child become seriously ill or should your spouse pass away.

Best of all? You don't have to inform us when changing your occupation – so you can have peace of mind that changes won't affect the terms of your cover.

If you want to be confident that your financial future is properly covered, contact me today about Sanlam's enhanced Income Protector.

*Available to qualifying professionals and graduates.
